InspereX

January 3, 2022

Re: Anti-Money Laundering Compliance Program Summary Request

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is provided in response to your recent request for information regarding the Anti-Money Laundering Compliance Program ("AMLCP") of InspereX LLC ("InspereX" or "the Firm").

By way of background, InspereX is registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board ("MSRB") as broker-dealer and is member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"). The Firm is an underwriter and wholesale distributer of financial products to other financial institutions. Accordingly, the Firm is subject to certain provisions of the Bank Secrecy Act (the "BSA") and the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism Act of 2001 (the "USA PATRIOT Act"). This legislation requires U.S. financial institutions to assist U.S. Government agencies in the ongoing effort of detecting and preventing money laundering and terrorist financing.

The Firm has developed and implemented policies and procedures under its AMLCP that are reasonably designed to maintain material adherence to applicable anti-money laundering and terrorist financing rules and regulations promulgated under the BSA and USA PATRIOT Act. These policies and procedures include, but are not limited to: 1) a customer identification program ("CIP") that includes procedures to obtain, verify, record, and maintain required identification information pursuant to CFR Rule 103, 2) a customer due diligence program ("CDD") that includes procedures to identify and verify the beneficial owners for legal entity customers, procedures to gain an understanding of the nature and purpose of the customer relationship, risk based procedures for conducting ongoing customer due diligence to identify and report suspicious transactions and the updating of customer information, 3) procedures requiring customers to receive notice that you are requesting identifying information, 4) procedures to detect and report suspicious activities (i.e., SAR reporting), 5) procedures for determining whether clients appear on the United States Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC") list, 6) procedures pursuant to regulations regarding correspondent accounts, foreign shell banks, and politically exposed persons ("PEPs"), 7) procedures for testing the AMLCP periodically, 8) procedures to update the AMLCP as new regulations become effective, and 9) designated an AML Compliance Officer.

The Firm regards compliance with all applicable Federal, State, and self-regulatory organization rules, regulations and laws as a high priority. If there are any further questions regarding the Firm's AML policies and procedures, please contact the undersigned at 312-379-3764, or via electronic mail at jpapagiannis@InspereX.com.

Sincerely,

James J. Papagiannis
InspereX
Chief Compliance Officer and AMLCO

Note: This summary is provided as an accommodation and is for informational purposes only. It is subject to change without notice. Having provided this summary to any party creates no duty on InspereX's part, and no party shall rely upon this summary for any reason.